THE TIMES

Weekly Circulation Statement.
STATE OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES.
I, Harry Chandler, Superintendent of circulation for the Times-Mirror Company, do hereby certify that the daily bona fide editions of the Times for each day of the week ended November 20, 1897, were as follows:

Sunday, November 15	25,960
Monday, " 16	18,450
Tuesday, " 17	18,520
Wednesday, " 18	18,480
Thursday, " 19	18,520
Friday, " 20	18,520
Saturday, " 21	18,520

Total for the week, 137,000
Daily average for the week, 22,833 1/3
(Signed) HARRY CHANDLER,
Superintendent of circulation for the Times-Mirror Company.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 20th day of November, 1897.
(Seal) THOMAS L. CHAPIN,
Notary Public in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

NOTE.—THE TIMES is a seven-day paper. The above average, viz., 22,833 1/3 copies, issued by us during the seven days of the past week, would, if apportioned on the basis of a six-day evening paper, give a daily average circulation for each week-day of 22,833 1/3 copies.

THE TIMES is the only Los Angeles paper which has regularly published sworn statements of its circulation, both gross and net, weekly, monthly and yearly during the past several years, and the NET CIRCULATION of the medium which seeks their business, and this THE TIMES gives them correctly, from time to time; and it furthermore guarantees that the circulation of THE TIMES regularly exceeds the combined circulation of all other Los Angeles daily newspapers.

THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

President Mathis has discovered that it is vain to expect "common decency" from a Populist politician in office. Up to date only uncommon indecency has been displayed by any of the breed.

Pomona has let a contract for $3000 worth of gravel-hauling for the streets. This is a continuance of other work of the same character. It takes a city with "sand" to conduct systematic improvements of the streets.

One of Dick Bird's attorneys seems to be a very ignorant person. He is the only human being in Los Angeles who does not know that G. J. Griffith is the man who gave a great park to the city. Had he asked his client, instead of the enemy at bar, "Who is Griffith?" that festive young man probably would have replied: "The biggest-hearted man on earth."

The Populist in public office is a travesty upon good government. This city is afflicted with several public servants of this persuasion. Two of the most notorious are Adams and Hutchison, the Populist member of the School Board, and Hutchison, the Populist Councilman from the Eighth Ward. Such men are occasionally elected to office, and the only alleviating circumstance is that they are promptly relegated to obscurity as soon as their terms are ended.

The member of the school board who has filed a location notice on the Ninth Ward chair in the Council and announced his political ownership of the ward tried to "do politics" of the demagogic sort when he loudly demanded that all political organizations be invited to take a hand in the investigation that he has been diligently trying to choke off or turn into a farce. A few more exhibitions of the sort may serve to direct attention to others than Adams and Axtell, who have been "doing the best they can" in school affairs.

It looks to a casual observer as though those lemon-growers who are budding their trees to oranges are acting prematurely. It takes some time for a great industry to ripen, and though there is no occasion to doubt the future of the orange, there is no disguising the fact that the yield a few years from now will be immense, and everybody expects lower prices to prevail. While oranges pay the best now, there is little reason to believe that that will be the case five years from this time, when the lemons will still fall far short of meeting the home consumption.

MILLIONS IN CASH.

The Treasury Department Receives Union Pacific Money.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The Treasury today received from the Reorganization Committee of the Union Pacific Railway $13,645,250 in cash, and turned over to the committee that amount in bonds which have been on deposit with the government in the sinking fund of the road. Of the bonds, $4,500,000 were in the sub-treasury at New York, and these were turned over directly to the committee. The remaining $9,145,250 were this morning turned over to Messrs. Krech and Abo, representing the committee, on receipt of a message from Assistant Treasurer Melroe that the money had been deposited in the National City Bank of New York to the order of the government.

The entire amount involved in the transaction will be distributed among such New York banks as have made deposits of United States bonds as security, in proportion to the amount deposited.

COMMITTEE IN CHARGE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The Union Pacific Reorganization Committee, pending the making up of the new organization, after the property shall have been delivered to the committee, has appointed the following as a committee in charge of the affairs of the road, as far as they concern the reorganized company: Winslow S. Pearce, James Stillman, Marvin Hughitt, E. W. Harriman and Otto H. Kahn. It is reported that S. H. Clark, the former president of the Union Pacific, will probably not desire to be placed at the head of the Reorganized Committee, owing to ill-health.

Nearly Four Million Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed.

Australian companies will lose the remaining amount.

HELLOUP A TRAIN.

NOAH LEE CAPTURED AFTER FOUR YEARS OF FREEDOM.

Three Young Fellows Try Train-robbing and Attempted Murder in the Indian Territory.

JUST A BEARDESS DESPERADO.

LEE'S SMOOTH ESCAPE FROM A SAN BERNARDINO OFFICER.

Located at Last in the Colorado Desert Near the Iron Chief Mine. He Will Be Sent Back to Texas for Trial.

"There are more beardless desperados in the Indian Territory than anywhere else."

So says Noah Lee, and he certainly ought to know. Noah is now behind the bars in the County Jail as a direct result of his own career as a beardless desperado in the Indian Territory, a career which he pursued to the extent of attempting to hold up a train about four years ago.

Young Lee avers that he is now only 21 years old. The officers who captured him say they have evidence that he is really 24, although his boyish appearance and manner seem to bear out his own statement of his age. If this is correct, he must have been the chief of "beardless desperados" at 17. The indictment under which he was arrested charges him with attempted murder in having cranked his rifle into the engineer's cab and the cars of the moving train after the engineer had refused to obey his command to stop.

The alleged crime was committed in June, 1893, in Atoka county, Choctaw Nation, I. T. The train held up was running on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas line. Young Lee is said to have had two confederates in the attempted robbery. Ben Self and Comp. Fagan. William B. Danforth, the engineer on the train, was wounded by one of the flying shots, but no one else was hurt. Although the warrant for the arrest of the would-be robbers was issued from the District Court in Texas, they succeeded in eluding the officers.

Lee came to California in April, 1894, and went to Redlands. He was traced by United States Marshal Williams of Paris, Tex., who sent a request to the Sheriff of San Bernardino county to have the young man arrested. The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Covington, and Williams started for the Bernardino to get the prisoner, but when he arrived the bird had flown. Lee himself told a racy story of his escape to Special Officer Fournier who assisted in his last arrest. The young fellow, who is unusually attractive in appearance and manner, promptly made friends with his captors. According to his own story, he invited Covington to take a number of drinks with him, and then to play a game of poker. Covington was rather "happy," and soon grew so interested in the game that when Lee excused himself for a moment and stepped into the next room, the officer paid no attention until the lapse of time brought him to a realizing sense of the situation and of the extreme probability that his friendly and tractable prisoner had given him the slip. By the time this had dawned on him, Lee had apparently vanished in thin air. The next heard of him was at Sonora, Mex., from which city of refuge he sent a polite note to the Sheriff of San Bernardino county, urbanely regretting the necessity which had induced his abrupt departure.

E. F. Pourade, special secret-service officer for the United States government, next took up the task of landing the resourceful Noah behind the bars. He sent word to Deputy United States Marshal Oakes, and the two worked until they had again located Lee, this time in the mines of the Eagle Mountain district. Last week the two officers, accompanied by Constable T. J. West of San Bernardino county, started for the desert. They went to Walters Station, near Indio, and then took an Indian team and started for the mines. The country was so rough that it took them two days to cover the forty-five miles which lay between Walters and the Iron Chief mine, where they made their camp.

Next morning at 3:30 they left the camp and struck down the trail for the Cactus mine, where Lee was working. They surprised the mining camp just at dawn. Five or six men were working around, and one young fellow was standing by the fire. Pourade walked straight up to him, held out his hand, and said genially:

"Hello, Noah."

The man mechanically shook hands, evidently wondering who had accosted him, as he briefly responded:

"Hello."

Pourade closed on the hand with a firm grip, drew the young man close to him, and said in an undertone:

"I want you, Noah Lee, and I have a warrant for you."

Lee coolly answered:

"I expected it. What's the charge? Can I see the warrant?"

The officer gave it to him, and he examined it with attention, especially the names of the witnesses, of whom he said he knew only one.

"Don't tell the boys what you want me for," he said in a low tone.

"All right," readily answered Pourade, who was secretly uneasy lest a rescue should be attempted.

Lee went with the officers peaceably enough, only asking permission to send word to his brother of his arrest. That night, on the road back to Walters, the officers took every precaution against a rescue. Lee was chained to Constable West, and the two slept in the tent, the others standing guard. Late in the evening, two men came into the circle of firelight that illuminated everything around the tent. They were challenged, and one of them acknowledged that he was Lee's brother. They asked to see the prisoner, and as they were apparently unarmed and peaceable, they were allowed to do so.

No demonstration was made, and Lee's brother accompanied him to San Bernardino. There Lee was examined before United States Commissioner George B. Cole, and held to answer to the indictment. He was brought to Los Angeles yesterday morning, and is locked in the County Jail pending the issuance by Judge Wellborn of an order of removal to the Eastern District Court of Texas.

Tropico Burglars Caught.

Information has been received from Tucson, Ariz., that Galbraith and Wilson have been arrested there and have confessed that they robbed the Tropico, in this county. Requisition papers will be secured, and the men will probably be brought back to Los Angeles.

Dervish Horsemen Repulsed.

DETACHMENT OF Dervish horsemen from Motembeh, the stronghold of the Mahdi between this place and Khartoum, recently attempted to raid the villages of the left bank of the Nile, opposite Berber, but they were driven off by the villagers, who were recently armed with rifles issued by the Anglo-Egyptian authorities.

A GAME OF SHELLS.

THREE ALLEGED BUNCO MEN IN THE TOILS.

Official Zeal Manifested in Santa Monica Over Their Capture. Story of How They Abused the Friendship of a Real Estate Agent.

Three rogues who persuaded a fourth man to put up $20 on a little shell game "merely as a matter of friendship," and then coolly snatched the money, were actively pursued, enthusiastically captured and zealously put in jail by the officers in Santa Monica yesterday.

The star in the little drama was Arthur E. Curtis, a Beaumont real estate man, and, according to his story, the other chief actors were three men who appear in court under the name and style of A. C. Carol, James Wilson and John Fletcher. Curtis was in town looking for a purchaser for some of the Beaumont and Banning property for which he is agent. While out for a stroll yesterday morning, he fell in with a man who gave him the name as Barnes. (It was he who gave his name in court as Carol.) Barnes made himself very agreeable, and when the matter of real estate was mentioned he happened to remember that he had a father in Santa Monica who could very likely buy some of the land that Curtis offered for sale. If he (Barnes) would induce the old man to purchase a little tract, would Curtis allow him a commission on the sale? Of course Curtis would do so, and so the negotiations proceeded.

Barnes made a show of driving a hard bargain. He wanted his commission guaranteed with a good solid bond. This seemed like asking a good deal, but Curtis was desirous of making a sale, so he agreed to the conditions imposed. Then Curtis showed them a man who was introduced as Mr. Hammond. (He gave his name as John Fletcher in court.) Hammond made himself very agreeable, and when a trip to Santa Monica was proposed he volunteered to pay fares for all three of them.

At this point the scene shifted to the seaside town, where the trio left the electric car at the Arcadia Hotel. Barnes soon found that his father was not at that hotel, but had gone down the beach a way to look at a wreck. So they started along the bluff that leads to the cañon. A fourth man scraped an acquaintance with the visitors and pointed out the fine view presented by Catalina. Incidentally he told about the fogs and other features of Santa Monica's charming climate. The trio passed on and somewhere near Montana avenue met a big man, who in court a little later gave his name as Wilson. Wilson drew from his pocket a piece of pasteboard and placed three shells thereon. Curtis was invited to try a little game with the shells, but he said he didn't want to have anything to do with it. Then Hammond requested that "just as a matter of accommodation" Curtis would hold his finger on one of the shells so that he (Hammond) could make a bet without any chance of the identity of the shells becoming mixed. Curtis demurred, but finally consented. Then there was a turn of the shells and Hammond told Curtis: "You've earned $10 for me." It was explained that if Curtis would only show that he had $20 the winning would amount to that sum. Curtis, still having his mind on the possible sale of a piece of real estate, and being unsuspecting of any swindle, acquiesced and laid down a $20 gold piece. A lightning manipulation of the shells and then he was told that he had lost, and his money was seized. Curtis's companions were about to walk away when the man who had so courteously shown them Catalina, stepped up and told them that they were in a bad way, for he was an officer and had found them gambling. They would have to put up about $300 apiece, he said. Hammond and Wilson boarded an outgoing electric car and Barnes was soon lost to sight in another direction. Curtis called for an officer, and Deputy City Marshal Webb responded. Hammond and Wilson, seeing him coming, attempted to escape from the further side of the car. E. J. Vawter, Sr., noticed the move on the part of one of them and when the man tried to pass him he refused to give way. Then the man attempted to dive out between Mr. Vawter's legs.

Wilson and Hammond having been gathered in, a search was made for Barnes, who was discovered hiding in a cranny of the bluff, where he had jumped to escape pursuit. His clothes were of a color not far removed from that of the soil of which the bluff is formed, so it was rather difficult to find him. J. Roberts assisted in the capture.

The man who had played officer was not caught.

The three prisoners' pockets proved to be quite a museum of curiosities. Hammond's (or Fletcher's) being the most interesting. Among the articles he carried was what looked precisely like a cigar. But it wasn't. It was a hollow imitation. Within it was a cavity containing a phial of what seemed to be kerosene drops. Gold and paper money amounting to about $200 was also found. Then, too, there was what purported to be a check for $500, drawn by A. J. Kelly & Co. on the First National Bank of this city in favor of R. H. Clancy. The check was dated September 13 last, but was worn as if for a long time carried in some one's pocket. The list of articles also included cards bearing the names of J. Hubbard, J. Ullery, Downey, Cal., and Gollart Rapp, No. 604 Court street, with Chris Kiddis. There were also a number of blank checks on the California Bank and a Southern Pacific Railway receipt for $24, issued on November 17 by A. D. Shepard to J. D. Russell for transportation from San Francisco to this city. Among the other articles was a second-class Pullman ticket for Minneapolis to a point not readily distinguishable.

Curtis was induced to swear to a complaint against all three prisoners. The complaints were issued by Justice Wells, and charged each with robbery. They were committed to the County Jail under $1000 bail till 11 o'clock this morning, when it is expected the District Attorney will appear for the further prosecution of the case. Constable Myers and the Deputy City Marshal brought them to the County Jail last evening. It was announced in Santa Monica that special provision had been made from private sources to keep the complaining witness in town so the case could be prosecuted.

One of the police detectives went to see the prisoners last evening. The detective said he had seen Barnes, alias Carol, about town yesterday, but the other two seemed to be strangers in town. When Wilson was told his case would be taken up in court today, he hotly asked the magistrate to give him more time in which to employ an attorney and prepare his case.

The news of the arrests was received with considerable excitement among the city officials in Santa Monica. A meeting of the Board of Trustees was adjourned as soon as possible, and the officers of the burg gathered around the complaining witness and listened with open-mouthed interest to his story of how it happened. The board held a two-minute after-meeting, and decided that, in view of what had just happened, it would be best not to dispense with the services of the day police man, as had been contemplated. When the prisoners were temporarily taken

NEWS FROM THE OTHER CALIFORNIA COUNTIES.

SANTA MONICA.

New Situation in the Sewer Matter Is Announced.

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 22.—(Regular Correspondence.) A new feature has developed in the matter of the proposed city sewer. At the meeting of the Board of City Trustees this afternoon City Attorney Tanner said that he appeared, under a recent legislative act, that the city need not wait for the termination suit before taking possession of a right-of-way to be condemned. A motion for an order granting possession could be made in the Superior Court, and upon the deposit of a sum fixed by the court the municipality could take possession at once. The City Attorney was instructed to make such a motion in reference to the proposed city sewer outlet.

Terminal Road to Open Up a Stone Quarry—An Interesting Study at Throop—Officially Declared not a Tramp—Breivites.

PASADENA, Nov. 22.—(Regular Correspondence.) The City Trustees met in regular session this afternoon, with President Hartwell in the chair, and all present but Trustee Patten.

The first matter brought up was the contract for lighting the city coming year, in accordance with a law passed by the last Legislature, regular specifications would have to be issued for the contract for city lighting next year. He reported that such specifications could be ready by the next meeting, and in the interim the electric light company had agreed to continue to furnish light on the present basis.

An additional petition, bearing the names of thirty-five citizens, who had signed the petition presented last week, asking the appointment of Ernest H. Hoag as city bacteriologist, was read. The trustees, in the opinion of the members of the board that such an office was not a necessity at the present time, was granted to the official grade would not be advisable, and a motion to that effect was carried.

Warrents amounting to $487.65 and interest amounting to $174.78 were ordered drawn. A petition representing 234 feet of frontage out of 300 feet, crossing the city street, was referred to the committee on streets, as no street had as yet been dedicated to the city.

TO OPEN A STONE QUARRY.

The Terminal Railroad officials are negotiating with contractors to grade about two miles of track, from above the pumping station at Devil's Gate to and along the edge of the Arroyo to Millard's Canyon, and into the canyon to a large ledge of rock. This spur will be about two miles in length, and the surface stone will be used in building levees in the Los Angeles River for the protection of the Terminal. The work is to be begun at once, and it is understood that the contract will be let next Wednesday. It is believed that the surface stone is of the quality suitable for building purposes, and experts assert that the surface indications point to an exceptional fine quality of building and block granite.

AN INTERESTING STUDY.

The students in the biological department of Throop Institute have constructed a beehive with glass sides, and are studying the bees as they come and go at their pleasure. A swarm of bees was secured, and the students are eagerly watching developments. Already several hundred cells have been built, and it is hoped that the bees will be able to live without queen, and it is the development of the queen cells that is being studied. The queen cells have been built by the workers, and the bees at intervals keep their wings in rapid motion. This is said by Prof. Grinnell to be for the purpose of keeping the air current. At least two hundred bees are in this swarm, and fully four pounds of honey is in the comb at the present time.

POMONA.

More Than Three Hundred Thousands of Trees Planted.

POMONA, Nov. 22.—(Regular Correspondence.) The work of cleaning the citrus-trees of the western part of the Los Angeles county has been referred to a number of times, but it is notable that the work has already extended to 325,000 trees in the district between Arcadia and Pomona, and the orchards are now in better shape than ever before in the history of orange industry. In addition to these trees, there has been an extensive work of the same kind in the country east of Pomona, in San Bernardino county.

At last there is good indication that this section will have a great improvement in country roads. Under the contract let a few days ago, the city and county will have a road of gravel for the improvement of the work.

Hold a record for the completion of the work on the San Bernardino county line, and on First street to the western line of the city. The work is being done by the city and county, and it is believed that the work will be completed in a few days.

It is also understood that the supervisors of Los Angeles county will take up the good work at once, and gravel the road from First street through Puente, making a fine drive all the way from Ontario to Los Angeles, and extending the work a short distance further south on Garvey avenue, making a fine drive through the Los Angeles county portion of the drive from this city to the San Bernardino county line.

On the China ranch, however, are in very bad shape, and the very extensive traffic over them makes improvements badly needed.

THE RAND GROUP.

Judge Welborn of the United States Court has issued a decree fixing the ownership of the Rand group of mines. The property reverts to the original discoverers, Messrs. Singleton, Moore and Burcham. Articles of incorporation have been filed with the Secretary of the State of Nevada under the corporate name of the "Yellow Aster Mining and Milling Company." The company has thought best to change the name from the Rand Mining Company, which was originally given to it by the discoverers, when they were the only people on the ground, because the name has been appropriated by other companies, who have issued stock under the name of the Rand group for a nickel scrip, which possibly may have misled the public into believing that they had some connection with the original Rand group.

CHARGED WITH RAPE.

JOHN McDONALD OF DOWNEY WANTED BY THE OFFICERS.

His Fourteen-year-old Stepdaughter Says He Outraged Her Several Weeks Ago—McDonald Makes His Escape.

John McDonald, a negro, has been charged with rape by his fourteen-year-old stepdaughter, who resides at Downey, and the officers are now searching for the man.

The stepdaughter charges McDonald with having committed the assault upon her in September last, and declares that she is about to become a mother as a result.

McDonald left Downey Saturday last and his whereabouts are unknown. He is described as a large man, weighing about two hundred pounds and not more than 25 years of age.

Deputy Sheriff White went to Downey yesterday to investigate the matter. He found that McDonald had left the country by a southern route, his course being traced for several miles by his tracks, which finally led to the railroad track and could not be traced further.

McDonald has been living upon a small ranch near Downey with his wife and stepdaughter for several years. He had borne a good reputation in the community until a month ago, when it was rumored that his stepdaughter had been outraged by him. Neighbors declare that at first the reports were discredited, but when the girl finally visited a local officer and swore out a complaint against the man, the charge was believed by many to be true, and the officers were sent to the ranch to search for the man.

Searching parties were sent into the neighborhood, but the man was not found. Downey came to this city to notify the Sheriff.

All the officers along the line between Los Angeles and Downey have been notified to arrest McDonald, whose description has been forwarded.

When he left Downey he wore a blue "trumper" and overalls and an old straw hat. McDonald is described as a dignified-looking man, with broad shoulders and a small mustache.

Irwin Shepard, chairman of the Executive Committee of the National Educational Association, telegraphed yesterday to Superintendent Fosbury and to the Chamber of Commerce that the Executive Committee will hold its meeting in Chicago, Friday, November 26.

At this meeting it is to determine which city will have the honor of entertaining the convention of 1898, the Executive Committee requests that all interests be represented at this meeting.

It is probable that Superintendent Fosbury will be unable to leave Los Angeles at this busy season of the year, so the school department will rely on the data already in the hands of the committee. Representatives from the railroad companies will attend the meeting as there would be small chance of getting the train without a definite understanding concerning rates. The Chamber of Commerce has members living in Chicago who will advocate the interests of the city as far as possible, and kindred organizations will do all in their power to secure the convention next year.

THE RAND GROUP. Judge Welborn of the United States Court has issued a decree fixing the ownership of the Rand group of mines. The property reverts to the original discoverers, Messrs. Singleton, Moore and Burcham. Articles of incorporation have been filed with the Secretary of the State of Nevada under the corporate name of the "Yellow Aster Mining and Milling Company." The company has thought best to change the name from the Rand Mining Company, which was originally given to it by the discoverers, when they were the only people on the ground, because the name has been appropriated by other companies, who have issued stock under the name of the Rand group for a nickel scrip, which possibly may have misled the public into believing that they had some connection with the original Rand group.

THE YELLO ASTER COMPANY. The Yellow Aster Company comprise all of the 18 mines in that group and no other. These mines have paid 5 per cent dividends on the Rand property the past year, besides the expenses of new machinery and litigation.

All of this has been taken from the Olympus, Trinity and Rand properties. In doing the assessment on the south group of the Rand mines a large ledge was struck on the Nancy Hanks, from which was taken out $1025. This ledge

HAY BURNED.

THIRTY THOUSAND BALES DESTROYED BY FIRE.

The Price of Hay in Southern California Will Probably Be Influenced One Dollar a Ton.

ONE HOUSE ALSO DESTROYED.

TWENTY-TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS WENT UP IN FLAMES.

Farmers of Southern California The Greatest Losers—Los Angeles Hay Storage and Milling Company's Warehouse Burned.

The warehouse of the Los Angeles Hay Storage and Milling Company was destroyed by fire last night. The residence of W. W. Lord, the president of the concern, was also totally destroyed. The entire loss will aggregate nearly $22,000, and the price of hay in Southern California will probably be influenced to the extent of $1 per ton.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but is thought to have been the work of tramps. The warehouse was a monster barn at the corner of Lemon and Bay streets. The first notice of the fire was given by Mrs. Motte, who lives with her husband and one child at No. 925 Lemon street. She was awakened about 10:30 o'clock by the heat and crackling of the flames. An alarm was turned in, but nothing could be done to save either the warehouse or the residence of W. W. Lord, which adjoined the south side of the barn, and the firemen devoted, therefore, all their efforts to saving the house at No. 925 Lemon street, which was threatened.

This house steamed a constant tribute to the heat of the furnace-like pyramid of hay from which the barn soon burned away, leaving the bales to roll and tumble in fiery masses.

The heat was so intense that no one was able to approach within a limit of 200 yards, and the firemen were compelled to constantly change about in their labor of throwing water on adjacent buildings. The 2000 tons of burning hay, packed tightly in bales, lit up the scene in a weirdly illuminated specter. It resembled a huge pyramid of intense heat, from the top of which bales of the burning hay would occasionally roll to the ground, starting in their descent other bales, until the whole side would appear to be a tumbling mass of fire. The outer burning bales, the flames would take hold of the fresh material, and in this way, in layers, as it were, the entire stock of hay burned slowly and majestically away.

The house of W. W. Lord did not burn so slowly. It was a small wooden structure and the flames made short work of it. All of the furniture was saved, however, and the loss will not amount to over $750, fully insured. Mr. Lord moved to No. 2901 South Hope street two weeks ago because of the neighborhood being infected with diphtheria, from a possible contraction of which he wished to protect his children.

Fully 2600 tons of hay, nearly thirty thousand bales, were destroyed. Three hundred tons were owned by the storage company, which is composed of W. W. Lord, president; W. B. Russell, secretary, and D. P. Flory, general manager. The remainder was the property of farmers who had stored their hay with the company, and on these the greater loss will fall. The storage company was insured, carrying $15,000 worth of insurance on the hay and $3000 insurance on the building. Many of the farmers had also insured against loss by fire, but the majority of them had obtained loans on their hay, and the banks will levy on the insurance companies for the full amount of insurance.

Long after midnight the large common opposite the burning hay was peopled with hundreds of spectators. Carriages lined the streets in the vicinity of the fire, and the cab-drivers did a rushing business. D. P. Flory, the general manager, expressed the opinion last night that the price of hay would be influenced in Southern California at least $1 a ton, as more hay was stored in the warehouse than in all other warehouses in and about Los Angeles combined. Many of the spectators, not realizing the extent of the loss, laughingly remarked that it was "only a hay stack." Nevertheless they lingered to watch it burn.

A Newsboys' Union.

The Los Angeles Newsboys' Union met in the Walters' Alliance Hall, North Main street, last evening. The meeting was called to order by electing J. D. Emerine as president, pro tem, and Julius Statowsky, secretary pro tem. After adopting the constitution, the permanent officers were elected as follows: President, J. D. Emerine; vice-president, Mary Vela Waters; secretary, Charles Massey; treasurer, Julius Statowsky; sergeant-at-arms, Julius Statowsky. The Executive Committee was appointed by the president as follows: Louis Berg, Percy Lorraine, Scott Campbell. An initiation fee of 25 cents was adopted, and the dues for the month thereafter. The initiation fee was then collected, and resulted in the collection of $8.85.

The roll of members was called, and twenty-eight members were present to join the union.

The union then adjourned to meet next Monday night.

READ OFFER: Renowned Physicians Testify to the Merits of

Dr. Wilmington's Blood and Nerve Pills.

DR. BARKWELL: Dear Doctor: I have been benefited wonderfully by Dr. Wilmington's Blood and Nerve Pills, and feel almost like a young man. I have been troubled with heart disease for over twenty years. So severe and frequent have my attacks been that I have consulted several eminent specialists, who told me I should arrange my business as quickly as possible, as I could not live long. Since commencing your medicine, about 3 months ago, I have had only one very slight attack. I am an old physician, over 75 years of age. Have practiced forty years in the town of Princeton, Ill., where I live, and I want the people who know me to know that Dr. Wilmington's Blood and Nerve Pills have helped me more than any medicine I have ever taken. Such a medicine, that helps a man of my age in the way it has helped me, is wonderful, and the public ought to know of its merits. Yours, fraternally,

DR. G. W. TAYLOR,

October 12, 1897.

This medicine is prepared by Dr. Barkwell (formerly of London, Eng., late of Chicago), who has proved to the medical profession that all chronic diseases, such as Nervous Prostration, Paralysis, Rheumatism, Sallow or Muddy Complexion, Stomach, Liver troubles, or weakness of any organ, are all caused by an impoverished condition of the blood and can be most quickly and radically cured by enriching the blood with these pills.

OFFER—To persons suffering from any of these diseases who will send or present this ad, together with 25 cents, will be given a very generous offer; for this week, a full 25c size box of these wonderful blood and nerve pills. Thousands who have given up in despair are being cured. Give it a trial and be convinced.
